DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8, 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. Claims 1-4, 8, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ohara et al. (JP 2001-256967, abstract).

Ohara et al. teaches an anode material for a nonaqueous electrolyte secondary battery comprising Sn-Ni, Sn-Co, etc.

3. Claims 1, 4, 8, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takeuchi et al. (JP 2001-243952, abstract).

Takeuchi et al. teaches a lithium secondary battery comprising a negative electrode comprising a lithium titan compound oxide, $\text{Li}_a\text{Ti}_b\text{O}_4$.

4. Claims 1-6, 8, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kono et al. (JP 2002-015729, translation).

Kono et al. teaches a battery comprising a positive electrode and a negative electrode. Kono et al. teaches in [0030], the negative electrode active material layer 22 contains Sn-Ni, Sn-Ni-Cu, Cu-Sn, etc. Kono et al. teaches in [0028], that the negative electrode comprises a current collector 21, the negative active material layer 22 and an enveloping layer 23 which consists of a carbon material formed on the negative electrode active material layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Ohara et al. (JP 2001-256967, abstract) or Kono et al. (JP 2002-015729, translation).

Ohara et al. teaches an anode material for a nonaqueous electrolyte secondary battery comprising Sn-Ni, Sn-Co, etc.

Kono et al. teaches a battery comprising a positive electrode and a negative electrode. Kono et al. teaches in [0030], the negative electrode active material layer 22 contains Sn-Ni, Sn-Ni-Cu, Cu-Sn, etc. Kono et al. teaches in [0028], that the negative electrode comprises a current collector 21, the negative active material layer 22 and an enveloping layer 23 which consists of a carbon material formed on the negative electrode active material layer.

In the event any differences can be shown for the product of the product by process claim 7, as opposed to the product taught by Ohara et al. or Kono et al., such differences would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art as a routine modification of the product in the absence of a showing of unexpected results. In re Thrope 227 USPQ 964; (Fed. Cir. 1985).

With respect to the product by process claim 7, the determination of patentability is based upon the product itself not upon the method of its production. In re Thrope 227 USPQ 964; In re Brown 173 USPQ 685; In re Bridgeford 149 USPQ 55; In re Wertheim 191 USPQ 90. Any difference imparted by the product by process limitations would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made because where the Examiner has found a substantially similar product as in the applied prior art, the burden of proof is shifted to the Applicants to establish that their product is patentably distinct. In re Brown 173 USPQ 685 and In re Fessmann 180 USPQ 324.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
